Irish show growth in homecoming football loss

Irish Head Coach, Mike Rowe, congratulates No. 6 Brayden Suggs and No. 55 Zackory Stroud after a six-yard touchdown in the second quarter.

No. 7 Landon Salmela struggles to stay on his feet during last week's homecoming game against the Crusaders.

By Brenda Erdahl

Junior Joseph Aasen scored the six-yard touchdown run that put the Irish on the board, Friday night, Oct. 11 during Maple Lake's homecoming football action.

The Irish faced St. Cloud Cathedral and fell 44-8. Aasen's touchdown was accompanied by a successful two-point conversion that closed the Crusaders' lead to 15-8 in the second quarter. The Crusaders followed with four more touchdowns – two in the second quarter and two in the third.

Other Irish highlights included Brock Elston's 43-yard pass, Aasen's 88 yards rushing and 43 yards receiving.

The scoreboard may not show it, but the 0-7 Irish are showing growth and improvement each week they are out on the field, Head Coach Mike Rowe said.

The Irish executed the game plan and controlled the football on offense the first half of Friday night's game, but the third quarter started with injuries for the Maple Lake team and a less experienced defense was put in.

Coach Rowe said the Irish just need to put together four quarters of football to start seeing more success.

Tonight, the Irish play Osakis before the students go on fall break to close out the week. Osakis started off the year with a lot of injuries, but those players are back now, and they are the favorite to win their section," Coach Rowe said.

"If we control the football, we have a great opportunity to be successful," he said.
